Createspace, United States, 2012. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 279 x 216 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .This book is a response to a talk by Robert Shetterly. His presentation was Americans Who Tell The Truth. Mr. Shetterly published a book in which he painted portraits of 50 Americans who have made a significant impact on our history. Some are famous, some ordinary. Early in his presentation Mr. Shetterly alluded to the events of September 11, 2001. He said those events were a pivotal point in our history. What is most significant about the events of that date is not that they happened but that we seemed to learn so little from them and have not made appropriate responses to those events. As a response to Robert Shetterlys talk I decided to do a book on people (and movements) I have met, at least come into contact with, who have told the truth. All have made an impact. Some have not been successful in what they intended to do. But even those who were not successful in their desired effect still made an impact and were helpful in bringing about some change. Some are still trying. We do not know yet whether they will be successful or not. Again I emphasize ALL have made some impact. ALL are just ordinary people. As my response developed certain truths evolved. 1. I have met persons in my own life who exemplify the truths Mr. Shetterly seeks to highlight. 2. I have had the honor of knowing some from my earliest youth until the present day. 3. Others I have met later in life. 4. Some of them have been famous people. Most are just ordinary people struggling with life. 5. Many of them fought with some personal...
