Excerpt from The Pastor s Remembrances: A Discourse Delivered Before the First Parish in Cambridge, on Sunday, May 27, 1855 Twenty-five years ago, - ou the fourth Sunday in May, 1830, - I began my public ministry among you, taking for my text the words, We preach not our selves, but Christ Jesus the Lord; and ourselves your servants for Jesus sake. I am not unwilling to remember and repeat them to-day. Humbly as I estimate the past, I feel at least that I have not been untrue to the spirit which they breathe, nor to the pur poses which glowed in my soul, as I first ascended the altar, and entered on my work. According to the abil ity which God has given me, I have labored among you from that time until now, preaching Christ, and the truth of which Christ is the centre and the life; and devoting myself to the service of my people in the ministrations of the pulpit and the varied offices of the pastoral care. Will you allow me, my friends, to speak out some of the thoughts that are in my heart? And with the frankness and confidence of a holy friendship.
