S. House of Representatives, One Hundred Fourth Congress, Second Session, September 17, 1996 In conjunction with that, I am particularly pleased that when we had the markup in the Commerce Committee that we were able to include the words genetic information in the definition of health status, which was adopted by the Committee on Commerce and was included in the final health care reform package. And the staff on the Commerce Committee and I worked on that. Hr. 2690, that I drafted, will not only safeguard health privacy and help preserve insurance coverage, it will also remove potential barriers to genetic testing itself. Eliminating the concerns about reprisals by insurance companies, will facilitate more effective use of genetic tests as they are developed, and therefore promote cures and treatments. This will sustain the global leadership of the biomedical research industry in the United States. However, if you can lose your health insurance
